Excerpt: . a decided boom in soccer in this section. There are now five leagues under the Jurisdiction of the Association, as follows: Southern New England League, Rhode Island League, Fall River City League, New Bedford City League, and Providence and District League. The public is responding nobly to the call for support of the sport, prevailing opinion being that the game is on a sounder basis than ever before, which is bound to have continued progress under the guidance of the National body. Many new players have been brought out, some of whom will be seen in faster company the coming season. The Southern New England League had a very successful season, but was handicapped through having two weak clubs which made a very poor showing. The New Bedford Club won the league championship, the Young Men s Catholic Total Abstiners Soccer Football Club being runners-up. The race for first honors was between four clubs and was a close one, not being decided until the last game was played. These two teams reversed their positions in the Timer Cup Competition. The four other leagues had a very successful season and many good games were played. In addition to the Timer Cup Competition, just mentioned, there was also tie Williams Challenge Cup Competition, open to all Rhode Island clubs. Crompton was successful in winning this handsome trophy for the second time and if fortunate enough to win it once more will become permanent owners. The...
